DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-18 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1 and 3-6,14,15 (in part), drawn to molecular simulation method for dividing a molecule or a part of molecule to be simulated into a QM space and an MM space by replacing a part of a total energy expression in the ab initio molecular orbital method concerning the QM space with an empirical potential.

Group I, claims 2 and 3-6,14,15 (in part), drawn to molecular simulation method for dividing a molecule or a part of molecule to be simulated into a QM space and an MM space by replacing a part of the total energy expression concerning the superficial QM region with a term based on the empirical potential; and obtaining total energy in the ab initio molecular orbital method concerning the QM space

Group III, claim(s) 8-10,16,17, drawn to molecular simulation device, and claims 11,12, 13,18, drawn to corresponding computer program and storage medium.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I is the technical feature that links Groups I-III. Group II is not the contribution over the prior art because it is suggested by references teaching semi-empirical QM/MM molecular simulation methods. For example, such methods are in Field et al, or Reuter et al., or Bessac et al. Therefore, the lack of unity is present because the linking technical feature is not a "special technical feature" as defined by PCT Rule 13.2.

The method of Group I does not require creating superficial QM region and using a term that is based on empirical potential. Nor the method of Group I requires obtaining total energy in the ab initio molecular orbital method concerning the QM space.

The particular molecular simulation device, and corresponding computer program and storage medium are not required for method of Group I. With respect to method of Group II, the method can be carried out without the device of Group III, e.g., manually.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

If applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims which depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined. (MPEP 821.04)

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
